HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffing, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little or this fragrant, antiseptic, healing ointment in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

Of Interest to Women
BY S. M. T.

FASHION NOTES

Have you seen the "Topper" hat? a very new style in headgear and one I should imagine, that will be very trying to most women, but they will wear it for all that. Only don't make the mistake of wearing it crowded down on the back of the head, instead of tipped a little forward over the eyes, which is the correct way to put on this jaunty shape. As it is distinctly a utility hat, it must not be over trimmed, and of course it is only to be worn with tailored dresses. The "Coach and Four" one of the newest of the "Toppers" is made on the lines of the old coaching hats, curly brim, high flat top, with a pert little cockade of feathers on the side. A new note in reception dresses, is that trains are worn again, some of the trained evening gowns are not only very lovely, but elegantly dignified, and invariably becoming to the average woman. Dancing gowns of course are short, some clearing the ground at nine inches, which is not only absurd in looks, but not particularly refined in style, only a very young, slender girl can wear those ultra short dresses prettily, and tastefully, they are not for her older and heavier sister, ankle length is suitable for her, but, mercy! how few women stop to think of suitability! Sad to relate, we are very much like a flock of sheep. If one, young and giddy, gracefully jumps a fence, everyone will follow, no matter how unwieldy, how old and tottery they are, over they go. So do women follow the fashions, becoming, or otherwise, suitable, or ludicrously unsuitable, if it is the latest style, have it they will, wear it they must, or they will perish, or think they will, which is nearly as bad, when just a little thought as to color and line would make all the difference in the becomingness of the garment. An unusual afternoon gown of biscuit colored velvet, with seal collar, and cuffs, and belt and pockets embroidered in gold, would be stunning for a brunette, while for a pink cheeked, fair haired girl, a blue velvet, made with a full tucked skirt, and a long sleeved bodice, with a vest of hem-stitched white crepe, fastened with tiny buttons, and with frills of the crepe at the wrists, would be charmingly becoming. In a Paris letter, I see mention of the wonderful metal embroideries being used on ball gowns, in both floral and arabesque designs, these exquisite effects in gold and silver cost a small fortune, few of us can pay $17.00 a yard for metal embroidery, but a nimble wit, and clever fingers can work wonders in glittering beads. You can copy most bewitching frock in the October number of the Ladies Home Journal, it is of shimmering silver gray satin, over which is a circular overskirt of tulle, on which is embroidered brilliant dragonflies in pearls and glowing beads. Just thing of the adorable little gowns you can make for yourself, a few yards of material, some strings of jewel like beads, combined with a little ingenuity, and some hours of delightfully interesting work, and you will be surprised at the result. In a late French letter speaking of the beguiling shops full of hand made garments, she mentions a very pretty way of finishing lingerie, and a new way to me it is. A fold of net is put around neck openings, at the edge of sleeves, and around the waist line ribbon is run through the folds, the color showing under the net, the effect is delicately pretty, and the extreme of daintiness.

The figured crepe night dresses are especially lovely, in cotton crepe figured in tiny pink and blue flowers, with ribbons to match, and a hand-made edge on neck and sleeves, they are charming.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

When I get to the kitchen, and food articles, there is so much I want to say that it is, perhaps, a good thing I am limited in space. I do want to impress on women the fact, that cooking food in a savory manner is not a waste of either time or material. In an article I read a day or so ago by a woman who evidently has knowledge, and practical sense in the much abused art of cooking, was this truth, that the average American woman overloads her food with salt, so instead of the delicate flavor of the vegetable, or bread, or the savory taste of the meat, all you are conscious of is the biting, acrid salt, a good thing in itself, for without it food is unpalatable but it must be very sparingly used, or it absolutely destroys the flavor of what you put in, a tiny bit of it helps everything, brings out and delicately accentuates the proper taste and flavor of meat or vegetable. It is this carelessness in detail, this surprising ignorance, in the necessary knowledge of cooking, that make foreign cooking so far surpass our. To quote, "Foreign cooks are undoubtedly more painstaking than those found in America—in the simple preparation of a cream sauce, a utes to a half hour for the elimination foreign cook allows from twenty minutes of the "raw" taste to the flour used in thickening, while the average American house wife will make a sauce, whether white or brown, in about five minutes."

The following recipes are delicious, and can be easily followed, this Italian soup will be found more than good.

GREENWOOD PLANS FOR GREATEST FAIR
Expecting Record Number of Exhibits as Well as Largest Attendance.

Greenwood, Oct. 12.—An enthusiastic meeting of the superintendents of the Piedmont Fair association was held in the offices of the chambers of commerce Saturday and details of the various departments were discussed. Each superintendent is very much encouraged over the outlook for the fair this year, not only in the number of exhibits that will be shown but in the attendance from all the counties of the Piedmont.

Mr. W. J. Snead, as superintendent of the industrial department, reported that he has about completed all plans for the big industrial parade which will be held on the second day of the fair. All the industrial and manufacturing plants of the city and county are being urged to be represented in this parade.

Demonstration Agent Paris, who is in charge of the details for the Harvest Parade, to be one of the main features of the fair on the first day, Tuesday, Oct. 19th, states that the agricultural resources of the county will be given a fine display in this parade.

Likewise, plans for the educational parade are being worked out on a larger scale than ever before.

The program of the events for the three days will be completed today or tomorrow.

Miss Lucille Covington.
Dr. John Wesley Hill.

Miss Lucille Covington, a lecture bureau manager of Chicago, but whose home is in Alpena, Mich., has begun a suit for $100,000 for breach of promise of marriage against Dr. John Wesley Hill, former pastor of the Metropolitan Temple in New York City and one of the best known ministers and lecturers in the country. Dr. Hill has long been a friend of former President Taft.

There was much mystery about the nature of the suit until Nathaniel Schmidt of New York City, counsel for Miss Covington, filed in the state supreme court a complaint, which he said was signed by Miss Covington, making these charges:

"That on or about the twelfth day of July, 1910, in Chicago, state of Illinois, and at divers places and on divers occasions thereafter in conversation, the plaintiff, who was then unmarried, at the request of the defendant, promised to marry him on request, and he, the defendant, promised to marry the plaintiff within reasonable time.

"That the plaintiff confiding in said promise of said defendant, has always since been and now is ready and willing to marry the defendant.

"That defendant has refused and still refuses to marry the plaintiff in accordance with this promise aforementioned, although a reasonable time has elapsed before the commencement of this action to the damage of the plaintiff in the sum of $100,000, wherefore the plaintiff demands judgment against the defendant for $100,000."

But Dr. Hill is already married.

Miss Covington was manager of the lecture bureau of the Western Yauzeville association of Chicago, she said, when she met Dr. Hill. He asked her to marry him so often she consented, she says, and then went to New York where she managed his lecture tours.

Mrs. J. F. Tolison and two daughters, Kathleen, and Ruth, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cordell, in Elbert county, Ga., from Saturday afternoon until Monday.

Mr. G. C. Williams, brother from Alabama, visited him here several days last week. They hadn't seen each other in thirty years.

Rev. W. H. Stone has been elected as the Baptist pastor here. He filled his appointment at the hall Sunday night.

Mr. I. V. Cordell visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cordell in Elbert county, Ga., several days recently. He went over to see one of his brothers marry.

Mr. Berry Sanders, who lives here came very near being killed Sunday night, when he was hit by the motor car in the cut on the north side of town. He is in the hospital now. His leg was broken and he was bruised up pretty bad. He has a wife and several children. We hope he will soon be up and about and be able to take up his duties as a father at home.

There was prayer meeting at the hall Wednesday night. Let everyone that can come out to prayer meeting and take a part in it.

Mr. W. H. Bonds went over to Elberton, Ga., this week on business.

dried beans are used, soak over night. Pour in a cup of stewed tomatoes, with a half cupful of uncooked "rib-bon" macaroni, add two quarts of water, and a soup bone. Cook slowly for an hour or two, season with salt and pepper, and pass grated Parmesan cheese, which is sprinkled over, each portion as served. This nourishing soup is considered a meal in itself.

THE CITADEL

I wired you the result of the Citadel-Porter game last night. We just outplayed a team that out-weight us at every point. This game showed that the Citadel really had the team, and that University of North Carolina couldn't do nothing with us although their team is as strong as ever.

The rifle team held their final try-outs yesterday at the rifle range on Mt. Pleasant. Among those who made the team were: Cadets Cothran, W., who is the best shot and who was elected captain of the team; Hayne, Mahaffey, Chumbley, Cothran, T., Merritt, Chalkin, C., Gilbert M., Gilbert A., Weathers, Savage, and Yarbrough. These cadets accompanied by Captain Raines and Lieutenant Han of the faculty will leave for Jacksonville Monday afternoon on the Clyde steamer. They will be gone two weeks and expected to win fame for the white and blue, even though teams from all over the United States are to compete.

The Citadel will send representatives to the state Y. M. C. A. conference which is to be held in Greenville October 14th to 17th. The six representatives of the Citadel have not been definitely decided on, but they will most likely be cadets Mood J., J. H. LaFite, E. A. Hope, J. H. Anderson, H. C. Cooper and Charles E. Daniel. Mr. A. L. Seacrest, of the Charleston Y. M. C. A. will be in charge of the Citadel. Porter and College of Charleston crowd.

If possible we intend to run over for the Clemson-Auburn game. How about printing something about the game, so that I will know what time it starts.

Clemson cancelled their game with us. It looks extremely like a case of cold feet. Anyway we will yell for the team from Auburn.

IN MEMORIAM

The death angel visited the home of Mrs. J. W. Dunlap and took from her a loving husband.

He had been with us thirty-five years, but how short the time seems, he was so kind and scattered sunshine along in the dark pathways. It seems he came from the skies like a messenger, hovered over our lives, gently and sweetly possessed our hearts, then flew back to God, leaving us empty handed and broken hearted. But why should we weep for him, he had only gone before to a home not made with hands, where no more sickness or sadness, no more parting can ever come. He joined the Methodist church early in life, and had been a member up until God saw fit to take him home just five months ago. They buried one of the fairest jewels that ever brightened and blessed a home. Surely the hand of affliction is being laid heavily upon them, but God knows best. The Lord gave, the lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord.

He leaves to mourn, a wife, daughter, two sons, father and mother, eight sisters, one brother. How we miss his footsteps, his sweet face, his loving hands, that are gone from our home. But how sweet to know he is safe in the arms of Jesus. We loved him so much, but God loved him best. He had finished up his work here on earth that God intended for him to do. We laid his body to rest in Belton cemetery the following day to await the resurrection morn.

A Loving Sister.

Just Suffed Elm.

"Want a job, eh?"

"Yes, sir, I am looking for a job where there is plenty of work."

"I am sorry, but there would not be enough work here to keep you busy an hour a day."

"That's plenty of work for me, sir."

Don't Know.

"You went and fed that cake I made to the dog, you mean thing?"

"I knew I did; but, honest, I didn't know you were so stuck on that dog."

TAKE SALTS FOR THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS

We Should Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat, Says Noted Authority on Kidney Disorders

Recommends a Spoonful of Jad Salts In Glass of Water Before Breakfast to Stimulate Kidneys and Eliminate the Uric Acid

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The uric acid becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from headache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only
